Fear Co-ed Killer Took Own Life

OPAL STURGELL

Berea, Ky., Aug. 18 (INS)—Belief grew today that George E. Wells had joined in death the co-ed victim of his unrequited love.

The brilliant Berea College senior has been hunted without avail since Opal Sturgell, 18-year-old sophomore, was shot from a car on campus Sunday evening.

The youth was formally accused as the slayer, and police hounded a motive with disclosure that the girl had resented his attentions.

Police today remained without a clue to his whereabouts. He had only a few dollars in his possession and was unfamiliar with surrounding cities where he might hide.

Lacking reports of Wells' appearance on highways in the vicinity of nearby towns, authorities advanced the theory he had killed himself in some remote spot.

The boy's father, John H. Wells, has issued an appeal for his son to come home and face the charges if he is still alive.

The father said the son had expressed belief his son was not the only a few dollars in his possession.

and was unfamiliar with surrounding cities where he might hide.

DR. LOWELL SUES AUTO LICENSE

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin today indefinitely suspended the automobile operating license of Dr. Lawrence Lowell, president emeritus of Harvard University.

"I don't think it will ever be returned, either," Goodwin added. "I don't think that Dr. Lowell wants to have a license again."

Goodwin said that his suspension order was made as a result of Dr. Lowell's automobile being in collision with two other cars, on separate occasions, on August 11 and 12.

It was recalled in the registrar that Dr. Lowell taking the required examination in September 1916 successfully last summer after failing once.

TWO CRASHES SAME DAY
"He should never have been passed in the second examination, in my opinion," Goodwin remarked.

Goodwin said he acted after one of his inspectors, John H. Dulan, had reported Lowell was at fault in the accidents.

"I don't think there is any publicity in this case," Goodwin added in defining to give details of his reports, "because blame for the accidents was accepted by Dr. Lowell."

The accidents that caused the registrar's order today occurred on route 1. In the morning of August 11, Dr. Lowell's car hit another operated by Albert J. Hanson of Weymouth.

Hanson and his two children, Ellen, 8, and Carl, 3, were injured, although not critically. Dr. Lowell had been on the way to Boston.

On the evening of the same day, returning to his summer home in Cotuit, the Lowell machine again crashed into another car, this time headed south.

SUFFERED BROKEN NOSE
This accident took place in Plymouth. Miss Margaret Hayes of East Braintree, operator of the second car, was cut and bruised.

Dr. Lowell suffered a broken nose and a fractured right arm, as well as cuts and bruises. He was first taken to Jordan Hospital in Plymouth, later removed to Phillips House of the Massachusetts General Hospital, where he spent several days.

Dr. Lowell, who was retired as president of Harvard in 1902, is now 80 years of age.

Dogs Lead Hunt for Vt. Baby

ALICE BAKER

Posse Makes Way for Bloodhounds

Wilmington, Vt., Aug. 18—Several hundred volunteer searchers, mounting the wooded mountainsides every here for 20-month-old Alice Baker, missing since Monday, were asked to abandon the hunt tomorrow.

At three o'clock, as three bloodhounds were put on the baby's trail.

New York state troopers, who arrived this morning from Hawthorne, said the searching parties may delay the dogs from their quarry.

Little Alice mysteriously disappeared from the lawn of her small cottage home while her mother went to a neighbor's, and has not been heard from since.

"Maybe Alice didn't just wander alone in the woods," said Constable Robert Young today. "I'm afraid something else happened to her."

The constable declined to explain what he meant by "something else," but there were grave fears, Constable Robert Young said, that a sinister motive lay behind her disappearance.

The blue-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Baker, one of three small children, disappeared Monday night while her mother went to a neighbor's home for ten minutes.

BULLETS RAIN ON U. S. SHIP AT SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Aug. 18 (INS)—Japanese military headquarters announced today that ten transports bringing 11,000 more troops were arriving at Shanghai shortly from Japan.

By JAMES A. MILLS

Shanghai, Aug. 18 (AP)—Chinese snipers' bullets three times imperilled Americans today while the Dollar liner McKinley evacuated 294 American women and children refugees off Shanghai.

Near-panic broke out on the liner carrying the refugees to the President McKinley, when Chinese snipers, evidently mistaking the craft for a Japanese vessel, despite she was flying American flags, peppered it with rifle fire.

Passengers on deck fell flat not daring even to look for protection below.

Two snipers opened fire on the liner.

Cronin to Stay Sox Manager; Collins Spikes N. Y. Tale

Joe Cronin will remain in Boston as manager of the Red Sox and will not go to the Senators as president, according to a statement made today by General Manager Collins.

There was a report from New York that Cronin would succeed Clark Griffith as president of the Senators.

The story about Joe Cronin leaving the Sox is too ridiculous to deny," said Collins. "He is having a great year as a player and as a manager. I turn up at this kind of story which has no basis of truth."

He also has been playing good baseball, and if we can get one or two first-class pitchers we will be real potent contenders. Billy Evans is on an extended tour seeking pitchers, and I feel he will land some good pitching material."

"BE A GOOD BOY"

Kissing her youngest son, John, goodbye, as he sailed for Europe on a vacation trip, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Sr., probably didn't think to include in her parting advice the admonition, "Don't squirt champagne on any French mayors and don't play rough at flower festivals." So now that John, free of her apron-strings, is upsetting French officialdom, mother can't say, "Son, I warned you against that."

Commenting on his disclosures in the London newspaper, the Jewish state party leader said: "I made public two documents."

WINE, POSIES FLY IN FETE AT CANNES

Cannes, France, Aug. 18 (AP)—Official of this swanky Riviera resort reported "great" indignities today among both French and Americans over the tremendous twist which they said John Roosevelt, Jr., gave in Cannes "Battle of the Flowers."

The 21-year-old son of President Roosevelt, they said, had on short Mayan Prime, Nocturnal's costume at the height of the fete last Sunday night, by squirting champagne in the mayors' face and slapping him with a bouquet.

The French foreign office asked the French press to ignore the story but the Cannes fee commiserate, equipped of Mayor Rousseau's aides, saw the matter in a different light.

They took newspapers aside to make what they termed an official announcement on the incident.

It occurred in the famous Cannes promenade, known as the "Champs-Élysées" or "Boulevard de la Mer," at the moment Mayor Rousseau was to deliver flowers and a "pretty speech" to the distinguished visitor.

Roosevelt, youngest of Dr. President's children, a Harvard University student on a vacation trip, had ridden in the parade in a two-horse carriage, put at his disposal

Report Lindy To Buy Island

Paris, Aug. 18 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was reported today to be negotiating for the purchase of Milos, a small island owned by Aristide Briand, near Trebeurden on the Breton coast.

The newspaper Le Journal published the report in a special dispatch from Petrograd, saying its informants believed the hero would buy the property to be near Dr. Alexander Carrel, with whom he has collaborated in scientific research.

Dr. Carrel has a residence on St. Gildas Island nearby. Lindbergh the pilot flew a small plane recently in the Carrel home.

Lindbergh, with his wife and five-year-old son, has been in New Zealand, since the family left the United States in December, 1926.

East Wind Ends Hot, Humid Spell; Rain Due

Shortly before 2 p. m. today a brisk east wind blew in from the sea, driving the temperature down six degrees in half an hour and restoring the humidity to normal.

It was the end at last of the current four-day heat wave that had followed a fortnight of humid weather.

Showers are expected, the wind may veer southerly, but it will stay within the east quadrant, the weather man said. By nightfall the mercury will be down to at least 70 degrees and it may drop lower.

Tomorrow it may be partly cloudy, but it will be comparatively cool.

Police Seize 33 CIO Ship Strike Pickets

Thirty-three picketing seamen were arrested today when they staged a noisy demonstration at the Atlantic avenue wharf from which the excursion steamer Steamer Pier, manned by a substitute crew, sailed.

The men, all members of the National Maritime Union, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization, walked out yesterday in protest against the dismissal of two alleged CIO organizers discovered among the crew.

About 50 men gathered at the wharf, shouting and hooting at the new crew which was supplied by the Marine Transport Workers' Union of the Atlantic, affiliated with the CIO.

Chinese Snipers Fire on I. S. Shipload Of Women Fleeing Shanghai War Zone

tender. Once Chinese shells whistled over the McKinley's decks and through her rigging when riflemen along shore began peppering the river filled with Japanese destroyers.

FIRE ON TENDER, TOO

The first fright came when bombs from Japanese warplanes fell dangerously close to the liner itself in the Yangtze River. Captain Bryant had ordered huge American flags flying from every mast.

A company of United States Marines, aboard the Dollar Line tender, which took 234 refugees women and children from Shanghai to the ship and transported 50 passengers back into Shanghai. The most dangerous moment occurred on the tender's return trip, when a second battery of Chinese snipers, evidently mistaking the tender for a Japanese craft, twice opened fire on her.

The McKinley, on which I came from Kobe to Shanghai, had plunged through a forest of Japanese warships that stretched all the way from the mouth of the Yangtze estuary at the Chien Sea to miles on up the Yangtze and Whangpoo to Shanghai.

JAPAN'S VAST ARMADA

I counted 38 destroyers, six cruisers, four dreadnaughts, an airplane carrier and numerous gunboats with their decks cleared for action. The pilot boats and tugs of all of them were barricaded with sandbags.

From the bridge of the President McKinley it seemed fully half of Japan's entire navy was concentrated between the mouth of the Yangtze estuary and Shanghai. Only a few of the Japanese ships were anchored. Most of them were parading up and down the Whangpoo river, moving closer to the battle with Chinese on the shore.

We arrived amid a terrific aerial bombardment. Morris J. Harris, Associated Press chief of bureau here, told me it was the fiercest yet far since Shanghai became a vast war front six days ago.

Some passengers arriving on the McKinley after seeing the Japanese raid and the Chinese sniping, stayed aboard to continue to Hong Kong.

Every square inch of the President McKinley was crowded with refugees, and from her decks it seemed as if half the Japanese navy was thereabouts.

American on the tender saw a harrowing sight of indiscriminate destruction and slaughter.

Whole squadrons of Curtiss-Patton type Japanese bombers, escorted by fleets of pursuit ships, rained high explosives and incendiary bombs on Yangtzeport, Chong, Kiangsu, Pootung and the Lungwa airbase. It was inevitable that thousands of Chinese natives were killed in the bombings and the fires they spread.

REPORT AMERICAN SAFETY

I saw several Japanese shells fall near the RCA-Victor factory, in which every window was shattered. All American employees of the plant were safe, I was told, but it was feared that many Chinese workers were killed.

The magnificent Shanghai Civic Center, which cost $300,000 was the special target of the Japanese bombers. They rained projectiles over the classic Chinese-style group of buildings until their roofs literally were perforated.

I estimated that at least 30 Japanese bombers formed the roving squadrons that bombed an area of approximately 15 square miles all outside the International area, but with greater Shanghai itself.

The loss of life must have been enormous.

U. S. First Wish in China Is to Get Americans Out

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull, expressing neutrality measures as secondary, concentrated their efforts today on protecting American citizens caught in the Shanghai cross-fire of warring Japanese and Chinese troops.

The President, refusing so far to invoke the neutrality law, took the attitude the hostilities do not yet constitute a state of war, especially in view of continued diplomatic relations between China and Japan.

The government's primary concern was the safety of its citizens in the international city. On advice of the state department, 1200 Marines were directed yesterday to sail from San Diego within 10 days to bolster the American guard at Shanghai.

Hull asked the United States to "get out." He sought

Here's a Japanese light battery in Tientsin "disciplining" Chinese who dared to resist Japanese invaders. Hostilities like this aren't war, of course, although bloodshed is spreading general in northern China, and Japanese enforcement of "law and order" has spread from Tientsin to Shanghai where despite fighting and artillery and airplane duels, many lives of thousands of non-Chinese and threaten an international crisis. Chinese Push Japs Back, Sink 6 Ships, Block River

Shanghai, Aug. 18 (AP)—Japanese warships and warships began a concerted bombardment of all Chinese positions north and east of Shanghai today. A desperate effort to check the steady advance of Chinese troops.

Outnumbered on land almost two to one, the Japanese navy, however, was reported today as giving way before the sheer mass of the Chinese advance in the northeastern section of the International Settlement. The combined Japanese third and first fleets and all available planes were thrown into the fray late this afternoon.

Approximately 20 Japanese light cruisers and destroyers lined the Whangpoo river north of Shanghai to battle formation and hurried headlong to the east side of the river, starting from the Hongkong river range all the way to the Whangpoo delta on the Yangtze river.

From this beginning there developed, by 11 p. m. in Shanghai, a fierce aerial-artillery duel of the scale of fighting.

Frictioned in the time being with western Shanghai, Japanese planes and warships both pounded Chinese positions in the city and Whangpoo with tons of explosives. Chinese activity in fighting pumps shells at the warships, machine-guns were reported to be firing at the Japanese planes.

CHINESE DO "A HOBNOB"

Just before the attack began Chinese troops seized and scuttled a fleet of six Japanese steamers off the French concession, effectively blockading the upper reaches of the river.

Chinese refugees from across the river in Pootung, central Shanghai, reported the Japanese bombardment had made a shambles of the streets and villages on the outskirts of the International area.

Simultaneously with the naval attack, the Japanese army, a few miles north of Shanghai proper and just a mile and a half inland, squandered a whole battery of tanks and Chinese bombers attacked the Chinese positions in the Yangtze section of the International Settlement.

IN PLANES RAIN BOMBS

Four Japanese planes were estimated to be raining bombs on the International city. The Japanese had wrecked from the Japanese in the six days of unintermittent battle for this city.

Approximately 2,000 Chinese wounded have been admitted to the International Settlement in the last four days. Only 100 were seriously wounded were permitted to leave. Some were taken into the area, where foreigners are barred.

The flagship of the U. S. Asiatic fleet, the cruiser Augusta, moved from the original position in the Whangpoo's battlement zone. The Stars and Stripes fluttered from the mast and the Chinese command a complete and unintermittent series of the air-land warships of Britain and France strong out behind her.

Under cover of the naval and aerial bombardments, Japanese troops were rushed ashore at the Whangpoo area, where, two miles from the Japanese zone, they landed. There were reported to have been several thousand men in these reinforcements. They came from a Japanese military transport.

The men were severely needed to bolster the Japanese units of 10,000 or more now deployed in a huge area over northern and northeastern Shanghai. They face 70,000 to 100,000 Chinese fighters.

The Shanghai American Club, in the heart of the International Settlement, served as a haven of refuge for many Americans driven from their homes in Hongkong "no man's land."

Recorded by police, Mayo was taken to a hospital.

Landeau Wife Asks Millions in Suit For Divorce

(Special to Boston Evening American)

Los Angeles, Aug. 18—Morris M. Landeau, 59, multi-millionaire son of a family of Italian diamond magnates, has been asked for divorce here by his New York socialite wife, Evelyn Stark Landeau, 23.

It was revealed today that Mrs. Landeau asserted her husband had subjected her to "maniacal rages and recently beaten her so severely that she had to be taken to a hospital for treatment."

The diamond man's abuse began shortly after their marriage in New York, May 17, 1933 and continued at the major cities throughout the world while they were traveling, asserted Mrs. Landeau.

She asked a division of the court for $1,000,000 in damages, monthly alimony of $500 and costs and counsel fees of $20,000.

The Landeaus have one child, Vivian, two and a half weeks old. The mother is seeking.

Seaside has sent back refusal to take the case, but she confirmed that negotiations with Mussolini are going on. But two days later, because she thought the expense, now totaling $100,000, was too high, she withdrew the suit.

The World Zionist congress also has approved the British plan to partition Palestine into Jewish and Arab states and a corridor for Jewish transit. It is arranging to negotiate with the British government on working out details of the plan.

Confesses Trunk Killing of Hub Man

New York, Aug. 15—Under the glare of police headquarters spotlights, Joseph Ogden, 36, a jobless man, calmly told detectives at line-up today how he had murdered his roommate, a former Bostonian, then stuffed the body in a trunk to ship away.

The victim of the gruesome slaying was Oliver George Sines, 34, who was 23-year-old, ex-serviceman, with a police record, was found in a trunk delivered in a Railway Express Co. office here, with three times that trunk being shipped to Memphis, Tenn.

Sines was arrested after detectives had traced the number "33" checked on the side of the murder trunk to the man's address in a West Side apartment district.

Police said they found two pistols in the man's room, one of 25-caliber, with one discharged shell in it. Sines had a 25-caliber slug in his head.

Ogden, police said, confessed. He said his admissions in detail nine hours later at the lineup.

London, Aug. 15—Premier Mussolini wants Haile Selassie back in Ethiopia, and has asked him if he would consider the journey to Addis Ababa to recoccupy the throne under Italian rule.

Haile Selassie, regent since the late Emperor Menelik II, has been in London since he fled from Ethiopia in 1936. He is now in London, where he is being treated for a heart ailment.

It is a proposal that Mussolini has already made to Haile Selassie, and he has refused to accept it. He has refused because he thought the expense, now totaling $100,000, was too high, she withdrew the suit.

She said a division of the court for $1,000,000 in damages, monthly alimony of $500 and costs and counsel fees of $20,000.

The Landeaus have one child, Vivian, two and a half weeks old. The mother is seeking.

Seaside has sent back refusal to take the case, but she confirmed that negotiations with Mussolini are going on. But two days later, because she thought the expense, now totaling $100,000, was too high, she withdrew the suit.

She said a division of the court for $1,000,000 in damages, monthly alimony of $500 and costs and counsel fees of $20,000.

Filmdom Fears Mexico Marriages Won't Hold

BRENT COUNSEL PUTS PLAYERS IN QUANDARY

Hollywood, Aug. 18 (INS)—Hundreds of Hollywood film celebrities were considering consulting their attorneys today for advice as to the validity of their marriages.

This followed a statement of Amelio Gonzalez, Mexican law expert, who was called by George Brent to interpret Mexican marriage laws in the latter's contested annulment suit against Constance Worth, Australian film player.

Gonzalez, former judge of Mexico and a member of the bar there for 28 years, stated that one or both marriage participants must live in that country or intend to remain there, for a ceremony to be valid.

Immediately Hollywood celebrities who were married on a busy trip into foreign territory, or who slipped to Mexico on the sole purpose of getting married and returned immediately to Hollywood began to worry as to whether or not their marriages were legal.

And if they were not legal, how would that affect their present status and that of their children?

Would it be necessary, in light of Gonzalez' statement, to have another marriage ceremony performed here?

OTHER STATES GAINED
And if so, would they have to wait three days after applying for a license, as is required by law in California?

From time to time, new interpretations have been given by California courts as to the legality of Mexican divorces and marriages, and whenever doubt was raised in this country as to their constitutionality, a toll resulted in the revenue obtained by Mexico for local fees.

As popularity of the southern republic waned, so did other games, such as Vegas, and Reno, Nevada, Yuma and Tucson, Arizona, and other cities bordering on California grew prosperous. What Mexico lost, however, states gained.

But memory is short and as soon as the bus and cry regarding the validity of such ceremonies died down, the traffic in elements to nearby Mexican towns would begin again.

Secrets buried in Mexico remain secret, which is not always true of American towns.

THINK MANY INVALID
Brent, who married Constance Worth in Tia Juana last May, is seeking invalidation on the grounds that he and his wife failed to obtain physical examinations as a condition required by Mexican law, and that he failed to produce proof of his divorce from Ruth Chatterton actress.

Gonzalez, when questioned, gave as his opinion that many of the marriages of the film country's members, would be invalid under this interpretation.

Among the numerous actors and actresses who might be affected by Gonzalez' decision were:

CLAIRE DODD, who was married to J. Milton Strauss, broker, the sleepy little seaside town of Ensenada five years ago and who today are the parents of a year-old boy, Jon Michael Strauss.

BRIAN DONLEVY, who married MARJORIE LANE, the double for Eleanor Powell wherever Eleanor is equipped to sing in a picture in Ensenada.

ASTRID ALWYN, now playing a lead role in a Universal picture and her husband, Robert Kent, leading man for 20th-Century Fox who were married in Tia Juana January 18 of this year, with J. Edward Bromberg acting as best man.

NOME HAVE CHILDREN
John Warburton, who married LUCILLE MORRISON in Tia Juana last year.

CHARLOTTE LABATO, who was married to Bolton Mallory a month after he obtained his divorce from Nancy Carroll, film star.

"SLEEPING BEAUTY" BELIEVED DYING

Chicago, Aug. 18 (INS)—Patricia Maguire, 28, the "sleeping beauty" of suburban Oak Park, was reported near death at West Suburban Hospital today.

The pretty girl, who has lain in a coma for the past five and one-half years, was secretly removed to the hospital last Saturday. This was the first time she has been away from home since she sank into a living death.

On orders of her physician, Dr. Eugene F. Trout, a veil of secrecy was drawn about her condition and neither he nor hospital authorities would discuss the case.

Her mother, Mrs. Peter Miller, who has nursed her throughout the dreary five and one-half years, said:

"Patricia is a very sick girl. However, we are optimistic she will be able to return home—perhaps in a few weeks."

Physicians, it was learned, are contemplating an operation, but are deterred by the fear the girl in her weakened condition, might not be able to survive the shock.

The 26-year-old girl, it was learned, is suffering from a disorder of the blood circulatory system, an ailment uncommon in her five and one-half years in bed.

Frank B. Coleman of Chardon street, Newtonville, today has two horn toads, usually considered native to the desert country, on his hands which he wishes some student of zoology would take away.

It is this part of the country, the toad, which have been nicknamed spide and Lazlo were found on Newtonville Sunday. He now knows where they came from, so how the girl there. Horn toads had never appeared in Newtonville before.

MAYOR FIGHTS F.N. COM. IN HIGH COURT

In a surprise move, Mayor Mansfield's radio attacks on the Finance Commission were introduced in the Supreme Court today as evidence that he did not "come into court with clean hands" in his battle with the commission.

Supreme Court Justice Charles H. Donahue accepted copies of the speeches as part of the record in the case.

The mayor was before the court asking a writ of mandamus to compel the Finance Commission to let him give further testimony in the White Fund-Cushman Hill Construction Company investigation, and to present and cross-examine witnesses.

OFFERS AIR TALK
George R. Farnum, special counsel for the Finance Commission, who made the opposing argument, presented summaries of the mayor's radio address, saying:

"He doesn't come in here with clean hands. He attacked the Finance Commission with the most extraordinary vituperation. He likened us to cutthroats and men who scuttle ships and now he asks you to exercise your extraordinary direction to compel the Finance Commission to hear him again."

"He asks you to compel the Finance Commission to listen to his further vituperation."

Mansfield objected to Farnum's action and words, but Judge Donahue said to Farnum:

"If you can get authentic copies of the radio address, I am inclined to admit them."

Again Mayor Mansfield objected, but finally agreed to supply the court with authentic copies.

He explained to Justice Donahue that he was testifying before the Finance Commission but was suddenly shut off, when Farnum declined to question him any more. He said he had not been given an opportunity to question himself to bring out points.

WANTED TO TESTIFY
He said Chairman Lawler of the Finance Commission had told him when he objected to a question by Farnum to James J. Murphy, an insurance man.

"I wanted to continue my testimony, I desired to clarify some of the matters that had been brought out," continued the mayor. "I want to present the testimony of other witnesses."

"I call your honor's attention to the sixth paragraph of the respondent's answer, my motion, which says that Mansfield's testimony was terminated because of his turbulent conduct, refusal to answer questions and that Mansfield was disqualified because of that."

"To disqualify me is a willful deprivation of my right to cross-examine other witnesses, which right I desire to exercise."

FARNUM ARGUES
Farnum declared that the mayor had been permitted to read a 60-page statement at the Finance Commission public hearing, to present his side of the case.

He added that Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph P. Brennan had presented several witnesses and had been allowed to participate in the hearings from the beginning.

"I can't say that Mr. Brennan represents me," said the mayor. "He doesn't represent me. The witnesses Brennan has put on are not my witnesses."

Farnum related to the court how Mansfield had made a surprise appearance at the public hearing, asking permission to read his original statement.

Farnum said the mayor was put off, then failed to come in when the commission wanted him, but finally appeared and engaged in two days of clashing with the commission.

RAPS MAYOR'S TALK
In his rambling-up argument, Farnum said:

"The mayor's conduct as a witness deprived me of the right to question him. In effect he refused to be a witness. He refused to regard his department as continuous and contemptuous, and yet you are asked to issue a writ directing the Finance Commission to hear him again."

"He has publicly denounced four of the five members of the Finance Commission as a wrecking crew, Curley-controlled, who were 'carrying out this foul plot.' He referred to them as 'a black gang' in his radio address and called them as 'fine old gentlemen as ever scuttled a ship or slit a throat.' He referred to them as tools of his predecessor in office."

"He accused me of political motive and alleged I was a rascal, a scoundrel for mayor. He called me a 'blue front,' a piece of scoundrel, acting for four Curley-controlled members of the Finance Commission."

"During his appearance as a witness, he was evasive, not responsive, irascible, contemptuous, continuous, insolent and violated every rule of propriety, and frequently used the word 'wrecking crew'."

"By word and action, he attempted to disrupt the hearings in order to distract public attention from the evidence in the White Fund case."

Mayor Mansfield launched into his final argument, saying:

"Four of the five members of the Finance Commission—Maguire, Robinson, Neuhoff, and Sullivan—conspired to send I and my brother testimony and that I went to church on Sunday and knelt down and was a hypocrite on Monday. Do you wonder I knelt down that day? You wonder I knelt down? I have denounced them before and I denounce them now. Maguire and Robinson said it was irresponsible and that the money of the White Fund was squandered."

SAIL ON "BLACK MARIA"

Under arrest and voyaging to Central Municipal Court aboard the wood ship, Black Maria, are the striking seamen, charged by police with obstructing foot traffic on Long Wharf, as the S. S. Steel Pier sailed for Providence today. A crew walkout was staged by members of the National Maritime Union, a CIO affiliate.

300 PASSENGERS THERE
Three hundred passengers were forced to wait through the lines and when the demonstration threatened to become disorderly, according to police, the men were taken into custody.

Booked at the Milk Street station in a charge of obstructing a free foot passage, the men were to be given a hearing later today in municipal court, police said.

Among those arrested were two CIO union delegates, Frank Gaffney of Somerville and Carlie Peterson of Dorchester.

The newly-organized M. T. U., which received its charter from Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, was reported to have signed an agreement with the Cape Cod Steamship Company, operators of the Steel Pier.

FOUR-CORNERED FIGHT
Observers regarded the incident as another development in the three-cornered union struggle for waterfront supremacy between the N. M. U., the M. T. U. and the International Seamen's Union, another A. F. of L. organization.

A fourth group entered the fray today when Capt. Dennis McCarthy, agent for the Masters, Mates and Pilots Association, an A. F. of L. affiliate said to have been invited, and a delegate, the pier to request the officers of the Steel Pier to join the strike.

JOHN ROOSEVELT IRES FRENCH

by a local hotel. With him, the Cannes committee said, was John Drayton, his companion on the night-week European jaunt.

When the young Americans drove up the mayor hailed to the side of the carriage to greet Roosevelt on behalf of Cannes.

The mayor carried a large bouquet for the French son.

SPEECH DIES
But before the mayor could make his speech, said his aides, Roosevelt snatched a bottle of champagne from a cooler on the floor of the carriage and squirted its foaming contents in the mayor's face.

While the mayor spluttered, the city went. Roosevelt seized the champagne bottle and poured it over the mayor's head.

George Goin, head of the state committee, said the "bottle of champagne" was a traditional French fight but the participants customarily throw champagne—not whole bouquets—and do not usually squirt champagne.

Goin said he was at the mayor's side at the time.

Roosevelt and Drayton left Cannes Monday morning, the city officials said, "without mentioning the incident." They were reported en route to Paris.

American sources in Paris said they might arrive there today or tomorrow, depending on their route.

John Roosevelt Prank Not Funny, Says Deb
Miss Anne Lindsay Clark, Boston debutante, whose mother has admitted an incipient romance between her daughter and John Roosevelt, today viewed John's throwing champagne in the face of a French mayor as just another of his pranks.

"What do I think about it? I don't think about it at all," she said, when questioned by a reporter.

"Do you think it's funny, Miss Clark?"

"No."

"Would you chide John about it?"

"I guess I would."

NO FORMAL ENGAGEMENT
A reported engagement between Miss Clark and the youngest and only remaining unmarried son of the President caused a stir in Boston social circles in the spring.

Her mother, Mrs. H. Haven Clark, widow of a wealthy Boston banker, of Gloucester street, Park Bay, and Bealton Cove road, Nahant, denied there had been any formal engagement, however. She admitted the couple seemed "very interested" in one another.

Anne was seen at many Harvard social affairs with John during the spring, at the Hasty Pudding parties and later Anne was a house guest of the Roosevelts at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Since John has been in Europe, however, their interest has waned, according to Miss Clark.

Lambert Back With Hearst Boston Papers

John T. Lambert was today appointed associate publisher of the Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser.

He assumes the executive position on the paper in which he began his metropolitan newspaper career 20 years ago.

A native of Portsmouth, N. H., Mr. Lambert had been successively reporter, political editor and chief editorial writer of the Boston Evening American.

He went to Washington as a national correspondent of the Hearst newspapers because of his intimacy with President Calvin Coolidge. He was there the chief of the Washington bureau of the Commonwealth News Service and Universal Service. He was also president of the White House Correspondents Association.

He is a member of the Gridiron Club, the National Press Club and the Congressional Country Club of Washington and the Cleeve Club of Boston.

HAPPY TO RETURN
Mr. Lambert returns to the American and Advertiser, today expressed his appreciation of "this happy reunion with my old friend and colleague who was so long and conspicuously identified with these newspapers."

"It's splendid to return to Boston," he said, "and to take part with the Boston Evening American in the industrial revival now going on throughout New England."

MAKES 188 PLANS
"The Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser have just completed plans for a program for the remainder of 1937 and for the entire year of 1938 that will keep these two papers in step with the industrial expansion now apparent in this section of the country."

"The Boston Sunday Advertiser is now rolling along at the highest circulation mark ever attained by a Sunday newspaper in New England. Each month it is breaking its own record mark, and we have plans covering the entire year of 1938 which we believe will send circulation to an even higher mark."

"These plans also embrace the Boston Evening American which, under the program laid out for 1938, should keep step with its great Sunday associate."

First National Checks for All
For the first time anywhere in America, the First National Bank of Boston today makes it possible for all persons to use checks whether they have deposits or not. This service is known as "Register Check" service.

It is particularly adapted to the many thousands of persons who, because of bank service charges and minimum balance requirements, have not opened checking accounts.

In operation the service is free from all formality, such as identification or signature cards.

Register Checks may be obtained at any of the 24 offices of the First National Bank of Boston. A user simply fills out the check and the attached card and presents it at the Register Office, window, paying the amount of the check plus a fee of ten cents.

The bank teller numbers the check, puts it through a postage meter and sends it back to the customer, who may then use it to pay a bill or for any other purpose.

It is not even necessary for the customer to go to the bank in person. He may keep a supply of Register Checks at home and, after filling one out, may send it to the bank by anybody prepared to pay the amount of the check and the fee.

THIS IS LIFE

By Robert E. Rogers

ROBERT E. ROGERS

The old order seems to be changing with a vengeance and God fulfills Himself in many ways, as Tennyson put it, lest one good custom should corrupt the world. In the not so distant past the art of flattery was considered sacred to one particular class in the United States, strong brawny men who got their training in more or less anonymous saloons and who would their way up slowly to positions of minor contenders in the hall was playfully known as the Squared Circle.

Heavyweight Ringmen A Sad Spectacle

Until Joe Louis emerged and finally conquered, the string of contenders for the heavyweight title roused little enthusiasm in the ablest critics of the "manly art of modified murder," as William McGeehan used to call it. More recently there has been a rather scandalous tendency to rely on importations, French and German and now English, to liven up the boxing game.

My thesis in this column is that we can let the professional pugilists go their own way, and rely, instead, on the moving picture actors, columnists affiliated with the film art, and more recently the well-known literary artists. The number of film actors and radio crooners who have mixed it publicly in Hollywood night spots, in supposed defence of some lovely lady, is almost beyond counting. Occasionally a professional turns out to be a better film actor than champion, witness Max Baer. Why should not a good film actor reverse the process by showing himself able as a dance floor brawler than an actor? It's been heard of.

Only a couple of years ago Sinclair Lewis and Theodore Dreiser put on a break one-round exhibition bout on a literary subject, and still more recently there was staged in the sacred editorial offices of Scribner's in the very presence of Editor Maxwell Perkins (Harvard, '98) a pretty lively set-to between those pillars of modern literature, Max Eastman and the Bohemian Bruiser and Ernest Hemingway the Bull-fighting Behaviorist.

Literary Lights Miss Purse Chance

The bout was a draw. There was no purse and (apparently) no side bets. Mr. Hemingway said immediately afterward for Spain, leaving Mr. Eastman muttering things about what he (Eastman) would do to him (Hemingway) in the school yard.

From the point of view of literature it was all very bad. From the point of view of pugilism it was very promising.

As usual the statements of the contenders differed considerably. Mr. Eastman echoed Mr. Jacobs on a famous occasion in claiming "We were framed," Mr. Hemingway offered to take Mr. Eastman on again without referee, spectators, witnesses, or Marquis of Queensbury rules.

The only respect in which the bout differed from those in Madison Square Garden for the Milk Fund was that there was a genuine cause better other than the percentage.

Mr. Eastman had apparently implied that the Hemingway literary style was intended show that the author of "Farewell to Arms" was a he-man with hair on his chest.

In the Scribner's office Mr. Hemingway not only proved that he has plenty of the article in question but that Mr. Eastman who is less muscular and more literary had virtually none. Hence the mump.

Impromptu Warriors Don't Need Bullhorns

Obviously if movie stars and columnists and other dramatic and literary lights can do so well in an alien field of endeavor without training camps, road work, sparring partners, newspaper advertising, ticket sales and advance ballyhoo, the future of the manly art in the United States may yet be saved.

Literary men will be judged not by their revenue number of editions but by how well they acquit themselves under the klieg lights and on the revised canvas.

Equally obviously our would-be pugilistic giants will probably have to be judged in the future, as was Gen. Tunney, by their knowledge of Shakespeare. That will make everything even, not to say bunky-dory.

NAMES 3 to Labor BOARD

PHILAN MADE CHAIRMAN

Governor Hurley today nominated former Congressman Michael P. Philan of Lynn to be chairman of the new State Labor Relations Board which will administer the "Rabbi Wagner" act.

Former Representative Patrick J. Ryan of Roxbury and Kenneth F. Lavin of Somerville were named to the other posts on the board. Each position pays $4000 a year.

Chairman David Leary of the Boston Finance Commission was also declared for appointment to his post paying $4000 a year.

Associate Medical Examiner William P. Roche of Marlboro was named medical examiner for the South Middlesex District.

The executive council reviewed all these appointments but did not act upon them, deferring action for another week.

FIVE-YEAR TERM

Under the terms of the nominations, Philan would serve a five-year term, Sullivan, three, and Leary, one year.

Chairman-nominee Philan served in Congress from 1913 to 1921 and since last March has served as assistant director of the Massachusetts State Sewage Commission.

Former Representative Sullivan has been affiliated with the labor movement for the past 20 years and Taylor is legislative agent of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor.

The new commission, which will take effect on August 28, was created by the last Legislature and is patterned after the National Labor Relations Board.

Its purpose is to aid in settling labor disputes, and it is authorized to summon witnesses and execute court petitions whenever "unfair labor practices are ascertained. Members may be removed only for cause, by majority vote of the board."

COLLAPSES AT HARNESS JOB

Charles J. McCarthy, 11, of Worcester, who testified in court that he had been harnessed to a lawnmower by his stepfather, Fred J. Maher, and was compelled to pull the machine until he collapsed from exhaustion. Charles' mother also testified against the accused man who was held on an assault charge. The boy is pictured in harness here accuses stepfather of forcing him to work.

Living friend of the governor. Denver lives in Cambridge and is married and the father of two children.

Colonel John Donovan now assigned as guard to Mrs. Hurley, is expected to be named as the Governor's personal bodyguard, according to several sources.

Donovan is a resident of Somerville and has been a member of the state police for 12 years. He was promoted to sergeant in 1931.

During his service in the state police, Donovan has been involved in several cases of child labor.

The council defeated the motion of Lieutenant Governor Francis P. Murphy for public sessions of the council. The vote was 3-1.

Charles F. Lindbergh, Governor and Edgar R. Lindsay supported Lieutenant Governor Kelly.

Hurley's Bodyguard Named Lyman Aide

Commissioner of Corrections Arthur T. Lyman today announced the appointment of Sergeant Frank A. Dever, 41, of Cambridge as chief deputy commissioner of his department.

Dever, member of the state police for the past 10 years, served as personal bodyguard to Governor Hurley from the time Hurley first took office as state treasurer, seven years ago.

He was promoted to a corporate in 1935 and when Hurley became chief executive this year Dever moved up with him and was made a sergeant.

(Miss Collins is president of the Aristo Club.) In our memory book under the date of January 13, 1924, we read: "Of the newly organized club for 1924, a successful and brilliant future is foretold for the Aristo Club." This prophecy has been fulfilled.

The success of this organization since its inception into clubdom has been phenomenal.

The function of this branch of aviation is the attack of personnel, machine guns, transportation, etc., on railroads and in concentration areas which are too far to the rear of hostile front lines to be reached by artillery. It is also used to silence hostile anti-aircraft fire, so that bombers can reach their designated objectives. To accomplish this, attack planes fly low and take advantage of woods, hills and other ground conditions which will permit them to surprise the enemy.

One day toward the end of the summer, Slim had been hunting for a good place to land his plane. He had been flying over a large field and had seen a good place to land. Texas Leads U. S. In Rail Mileage

The report, which is the first in a series of reports on the subject, shows that Texas has built more than 1,000 miles of new railroads in the last five years.

The report also shows that Texas has the largest number of miles of railroads in the United States, with more than 10,000 miles.
